Day One. [Think.]

The Force of Impact: “How to Apply a Balanced Standard of Thinking that Improves Your Results.”

Morning: "Strategic Thinking." Becoming more strategic in your everyday thinking is essential to having a strong leadership agenda: providing guidance to decisions, implementing initiatives, determining priorities and allocating resources.

Afternoon: "Creative, Innovative, and Adaptive Thinking." Accomplishing the strategic initiatives, goals, and the mission of the agency is dramatically improved when imaginative, thought-provoking ideas are used as a catalyst to see work accomplished in new ways, with new focus, clarity, and energy.

Day Two. [Act.]

The Point of Impact: “How Your Behaviors Influence Your Ability to Lead Effectively.”

Morning: "Social / Emotional Intelligence." Your impact as a leader goes well beyond your competence; it depends greatly on how well you interact with others. Learn what works, assess your actions, and understand how to make adjustments.

Afternoon: "Where the Leadership Research Leads Us." A ‘W.O.W.’ Factor is always in play on the job – leaders need to fully understand the primary wants and needs that people embrace. Compiled from research within the federal sector; see how this information impacts the actions you take.
